Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 29 to 33.

Super Size Me is a 2004 film by Morgan Spurlock, in which he documents his experiment to eat only McDonald's fast food three times a day, every day, for thirty days.

Spurlock made himself a short list of rules for the experiment, including an obligation to eat all of the three meals he ordered. He also had to 'Super Size', which means accepting a giant portion every time the option was offered to him. He ended up vomiting after the first Super Size meal he finished, after taking nearly twenty minutes to consume it.

After five days Spurlock put on almost 5kg, and he soon found himself feeling depressed, with no energy. The only thing that got rid of his headaches and made him feel better was another McDonald's meal, so his doctors told him he was addicted. More seriously, around day twenty, he started experiencing heart palpitations and one of the doctors detected liver problems. However, in spite of his doctor's advice, Spurlock continued to the end of the month and achieved a total weight gain of 11kg. His body mass index also increased from a healthy 23.2 to an overweight 27.

It took Spurlock fifteen months to recover from his experiment and return to his original weight, but the film also had a wider impact. Just after its showing in 2004, McDonald's phased out the Super Size option and healthier options like salads appeared on the menu.

Unfortunately, McDonald's denied the connection between the film and the changes, but it is interesting to note how closely they coincided with the release of the film.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 34 to 40.

A survey into the media habits of teenagers in the USA reveals some surprising statistics. The average teenager spends an incredible eleven hours each day on their mobile phones, computers, games consoles or TVs. That's more hours than they are awake outside school time! How are they able to do this? The answer, of course, is multitasking.

The results of the survey came as no surprise to fifteen-year-old participant Jake Kendall. He told researchers that he multitasked every second that he was online. He said that he was completing their survey at the same time as watching a TV show, chatting to friends online and reading reviews of the latest film releases. For sixteen-year-old Marisa Sanchez, the survey simply confirmed the facts. She said that she had watched two hours of TV in the three hours since the end of school, and also researched her homework about volcanoes, played an online game for two hours, and arranged her weekend plans by texting friends.

Some experts are worried about the survey results. Sylvia de Lupis of the Family Action Institute told our reporter that teenagers would have difficulties because of their multitasking habits. She added that, as adults, they would struggle to focus their attention. However, Dr. Michael Rich from the Center on Media and Child Health said that worries about multitasking had become pointless a long time ago, and that high levels of media use were now a part of young people's environment, 'like the air that they breathe, the water that they drink and the food that they eat'.

Question 34: Which of the following is the best title for the passage?

- A. Multitasking - Part of Teens' Everyday Life
- B. Teens: Learning through Media
- C. Teens: More Media Use Than Hours in The Day
- D. The Art of Multitasking: A to Z for Teens

- A. discussions B. comments C. complaints D. plots
- Question 37: The word "they" in paragraph 3 refers to _____.
- A. difficulties B. teenagers C. adults D. habits
- Question 38: The word "pointless" in paragraph 3 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.
- A. invaluable B. useful C. worthless D. ineffective
- Question 39: Which of the following is NOT true according to the passage?
- A. Frequent media use is possibly a matter of course to young people.
B. Marisa Sanchez could complete her school assignment and relax at a time.
C. An average teen in America spends nearly half a day using media.
D. Dr. Michael Rich expected teenagers to get distracted due to multitasking.
- Question 40: Which of the following can be inferred from the passage?
- A. Jake Kendall and Marisa Sanchez got good academic results.
B. Family Action Institute must work to stop multitasking.
C. Young people should concentrate on only one medium at a time.
D. Youngsters' multitasking habits in media use meet with mixed reactions from the public.
